County landfill needs expansion, Pearlington trash site approved

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors has landfill problems again.

During a discussion of an equipment inventory with County Maintenance Superintendent Bill Johnson, Beat Three Supervisor Roger Dale Ladner said he is against having anything from outside Hancock County dumped into the landfill, which is located in part of the NASA buffer zone at Catahoula.

The problem this time is the size of the landfill, where Johnson said most of the available land has already been used.

After being instructed to do so by the board, Johnson had contacted NASA officials to find out if more land might be made available for an addition to the landfill.

He said the most recent information he has from NASA indicated that the matter was still being discussed in Washington, D.C.

Beat Four Supervisor Sam Perniciaro, who managed the landfill as a county-wide project before Hancock County shifted to the unit system and put garbage disposal under Johnson's authority, said that contractors using the landfill as a dumping site for anything collected outside Hancock County should be put on notice if the landfill could no longer handle the additional garbage.

Some relief may come from the establishment of a trash site in Pearlington, where Supervisor Ronald Cuevas said there is already a dumpster site for household garbage.

The state has given permission for a trash site there, where the county has had numerous problems with trash such as old appliances, construction materials and other large items being dumped in wooded areas.

Cuevas said he has plans to clean up the woods as soon as the trash site is ready.

Ladner reported that he already has a trash site adjacent to a dumpster site in Beat Three.

The dumpsters were installed after state officials ordered the board in 1985 and again in 1986 to clean up three illegal dumpsites located in Beat Two and Beat Three. They were placed at those sites for collection of household garbage only.

The landfill discussion branched off from a discussion of the county's equipment inventory, which includes some machines at the landfill that Johnson said should probably be used for road maintenance and drainage instead.

Cuevas has asked Johnson to try to provide a cost analysis of equipment maintenance and consider replacing some of the older machines that are more difficult and expensive to maintain.

Perniciaro, however, objected to that idea, stating that the county can not afford to do so at this time.

Johnson said he would also consider Ladner's suggestion that a small computer be used to keep track of equipment inventory and maintenance records, or the possibility of hooking into the courthouse computer system for that purpose.

CAR, TRAIN COLLISION—Mobile Medic personnel prepare to transport Mike Barbetta, 23, of Kiln to Hancock Medical Center following a car-train collision in Henderson Point. No charges have been filed in the acci-

Car-train collision results in slight injury to Kiln man

BY BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Mike Barbetta, 23, of Kiln was injured Thursday morning in a collision of his vehicle and a train or Third Street in Henderson Point.

Barbetta was headed south when the collision occurred with the New Orleans-bound Extra CNO55-15 train.

Deputy Percy Howard of the Harrison County Sheriff's Department said he had received conflicting accounts of the accident from the train conductor and Barbetta.

No charges have been filed at this time, Howard said.

At the scene of the accident the conductor told Howard the car had struck the train "right below the engineer's window on the lead engine."

There were signs of an impact on the side of the train.

Engineer J. C. Wilson of Mobile reported the train's speed at the time of the collision was 25 miles per hour.

Also at the scene, witnesses who live in nearby houses recalled the train's whistle blowing before the accident occurred.

The Pass Christian Fire Department responded to the scene and was called on to douse the Barbetta car engine, which was leaking gasoline.

Barbetta was transported from the scene to Hancock Medical Center in Bay St. Louis by Mobile Medic.

Janice Jones, HMC director of nursing, said Friday Barbetta had been treated and released from the hospital on Thursday.

The accident is still under investigation.

Formation of Mothers Against Driving Drunk chapter underway

By ELLIS CUEVAS

A group of concerned citizens attempting to form a local chapter of Mothers Against Driving Drunk—MADD—has scheduled its second meeting for 7 p.m. Tuesday at the Waveland Police Station on US-90.

Mary Adkinson of Bay St. Louis said persons interested in further information may contact Mrs. Adkinson at 467-2802 or Waveland Patrolman John Wilerson, 467-3669.

Wilkerson who is assisting in the formation of the local chapter said, "We have received many requests from mothers in regards to drunk drivers and feel there is a need for such an organization in Hancock County."

In order to receive a charter for the national organization it is necessary to have more than 20 paid members in a new local group.

Memberships for the organization when formed will be $20 annually with a reduced rate of $10 for Senior Citizens.

Wilkerson stated, "Membership is free for any person who has been injured in or had an immediate family member killed in an accident involving a drunk driver."

Wilkerson cautions residents that all membership fees must be paid either by check or a money order made out to Mothers Against Driving Drunk. No cash will be accepted for memberships.

Waveland board turns zoning complaints over to attorney

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Waveland Board of Aldermen, after hearing from residents of two areas who say they have neighbors violating zoning codes, has turned the matter over to an attorney, hoping to end the violations through legal action.

Board Attorney Lucien Gex said Wednesday after hearing the complaints that one of the alleged problems could probably be resolved through action in city court, while the other may involve the State Board of Health.

One of the alleged violations is on

St. Joseph Street and the other is on McKinley Street.

Neighbors around the home at 1017 St. Joseph Street, which a city spokesperson said is occupied by Larry Watkins, appeared before the board of aldermen to voice concerns regarding traffic at the house.

Rhea Seafide, Sid Thompson and Marge Thompson complained that a business, Watkins Fence Company, is being operated at the home, which is in an R-1 zoning area.

Such businesses are not permitted in an R-1 area, which allows only single-family residence. While some in-home businesses may be operated in an R-1 zone, they can not be of such a nature as to increase traffic in the neighborhood and must comply with zoning regulations that even limit the size and type of signs that may be used, Gex said.

Seafide said her concern is for the safety of children in the neighborhood, which is close to Waveland Elementary School. She said she is the mother of a four-year-old.

She complained of large trucks and industrial equipment coming

Bay-Waveland school system promotes National School Bus Safety Week

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK
 The Bay St. Louis-Waveland School District is seeking community support of National School Bus Safety Week.

Billy Rhodes, transportation supervisor, asks support in promoting school bus safety not just for this week, but for the entire year.

"Transporting students to and from school safely is a tremendous responsibility for us, here at school, as well as for the entire community," he said.

In efforts to inform the public of its responsibility, Rhodes contacted the city officials in Bay St. Louis and Waveland and such organizations as the Rotary Club, the Chamber of Commerce and the Exchange Club to help support the project.

Rhodes says each person can help by simply being aware of the safety of the school buses and by telling others of the project.

During this week, bus drivers are also asked to take additional safety procedures to enhance the safety of students while on the bus.

Bus drivers have been requested to give a complete pre-trip safety inspection of the bus and report any defects to the transportation department.

Drivers should also explain and practice an emergency evacuation exercise with passengers this week.

Daily reminders will be posted at all schools for teachers and students.

Teachers will also be asked to take time out from class to discuss transportation safety instructions with students.

In this program, pupils will be taught to be alert for all dangers and explain consequences for not obeying the rules.

Students will be reminded that riding the school bus is a privilege and can be denied by suspending pupils from school for improper conduct.

These instructions are: be at assigned loading zone on time; use extreme caution in getting to and from assigned bus stop; look both directions before stepping from behind parked cars or crossing the road; stay off the road until a bus comes to a complete stop and the driver indicates it is safe to board; do not play on or near the road while waiting for the bus; never walk on the road when there is a sidewalk or pathway; walk on the left side of the road facing on-coming traffic and step off the road when a motor vehicle approaches; wait until the bus comes to a complete stop before getting on or off the bus; use a handrail while getting on or off the bus; and when crossing the road to enter or leave the bus; and always cross in front of the bus.

Instructions for passengers while on the bus are: do not distract the driver's attention; talk to friends in a normal tone and do not shout; do not talk or make unnecessary noise when the bus is approaching and crossing a railroad or highway intersection; keep head, hands and other articles inside the bus; do not bring unauthorized articles on the bus; do not smoke or use profane language; do not fight or scuffle; and be courteous to and follow the bus drivers instructions.

Crash kills girl; cop arrested

A seven-year-old girl has died from injuries she received in a head-on truck collision Sunday night, Sept. 13 on U.S. 90 in eastern New Orleans.

Nine other people were hurt when the two pickups collided at the base of the bridge at Chef Menteur Pass and U.S. 90.

An off-duty New Orleans policeman who was driving one of the trucks was arrested after the accident, police said.

Seven children were thrown from the bed of the other truck in the collision.

Natasha Blank died Sunday at about 11:30 p.m. at Humana Hospital. Ashley Carr, 3, Natasha's sister, was in critical condition at Humana, a hospital spokesman said. Brian Ricks, 13, and Dwayne Ricks, 15, were in good condition, the spokesman said.

The 6th District policeman, Jimmy Gray, 42, was in stable condition at Humana, New Orleans Police Department spokesman David Adams said.

Gray was arrested on nine counts of negligent injury and one count of driving while intoxicated. Adams said Gray will be booked after he is released from the hospital.

With the death of the child, Gray could also be booked with negligent homicide.

The driver of the second truck, Randy Williams, 29, was in guarded condition after surgery at Humana, the hospital spokesman said.

The other injured occupants of Williams' truck were at Pendleton Memorial Methodist Hospital. His wife, Karen, 22, was in good condition; his daughter Cecelia, 4, was in good condition; and Keith Ricks, 8 was in stable condition.

Randy Williams Jr., 6, who was in guarded condition, was transferred from Pendleton to Children's Hospital.

Police said Gray was heading east on Chef Highway about 5 p.m. when his truck hit a 12-inch hole in the road and lurched into the path of Williams' westbound pickup.

Witnesses said the children were thrown high into the air in the accident.

Squash, one of our earliest native foods, was grown in abundance in our country long years before the Pilgrims set foot on our shores—and, because the Indians cooked only the blossoms, eating the squash itself raw, out of hand, the colonists called this newly encountered vegetable "squash"—an abbreviation of the Indian "Askutes-quash," meaning "eaten raw," or so early records tell us.

The resourceful, and hungry colonists soon learned to cook and to like the squash, as do so many of us today. My favorites in the squash family are the yellow crookneck and the prolific zucchini, but there's just about a variety of squash for every palate, isn't there?

I like to slice the smallest young tender squash quite thinly and add to a green salad—or barely steam the slices in the barest of water with pepper and lemon—or sautéed with onion and tomato slices, with small chunks of sharp Cheddar cheese or Monterey Jack cheese added at the last minute.

I also like squash baked or stuffed—oh, there are so many ways to enjoy squash—and the price is usually kind to the budget, as well. Try some variations yourself. And, to get you started, here's:

BAKED SQUASH AND SAUSAGE

3 medium squash

12 pork sausage links, small

6 Tbsp. honey

Cut the squash in half lengthwise and remove seeds. To each half add 2 sausage links and a tablespoon of honey and bake at 400 degrees until squash is tender and sausage brown.

Or, try:

STUFFED SQUASH SOUTHERN STYLE

6 small squash

1 cup diced ham or shrimp

1 cup bread crumbs or cooked rice

1 onion, chopped

2 Tbsp. chopped parsley

Dashes of thyme, cayenne pepper

Scoop out the centers of the squash, patty pan or other, chop coarsely and mix with the other ingredients. Return to shells, put a lump of butter in the center of each.

Score shells criss cross on upper edges as you would a pie shell, and place in pan to which you've added a little water, along with oil or butter, and bake for 20 minutes or so in a moderate oven till done (time, of course, varies with size and tenderness of squash. Some cooks prefer to steam the squash briefly before scooping out and filling.)

If you like, spoon the "sauce" from the pan over each serving. (Six servings.)

Squash is also delicious sliced, along with onions, and then "smothered" in bacon drippings.

Quotables by CUEVAS

It was a very interesting ride on the Operation Lifesaver Safety Train on Wednesday from Bay St. Louis to Pascagoula and back.

The train ride which originated from New Orleans was sponsored by CSX Transportation, Inc. and the Mississippi and Louisiana Operation Lifesaver Councils.

The special train is designed to promote grade crossing safety throughout the states of Mississippi and Louisiana.

Hancock County had many representatives on the trip and we were glad to see so many folks.

As passengers, we were able to view the tracks as the engineer does by a remote camera placed on the engine.

As many of you know there are many railroad crossings along the Mississippi Coast. We were able to witness several close calls of motorists crossing only with a few seconds to spare before the engine.

Freight trains of 150 cars traveling 30 mph take about one half mile to stop, so as you can see they cannot stop quickly.

The primary reason for the trip was to promote railroad crossing safety as CSX is also presenting safety programs to our schools for our youth.

We are aware of the number of fatalities at railroad crossings along the Coast and many are caused by someone trying to 'beat the train' to a crossing.

One may not realize just how large a train is nowadays because one views it from an auto a distance from the tracks.

It is a different picture when you walk alongside a train and have to look way up to see the top of a train.

We hope all motorists will use extreme caution at railroad crossings.

Highway Patrol emphasizes school bus safety

There are 360,000 good reasons for Mississippi motorists to be alert during the 180-day school year.

The 360,000 figure represents the number of children who ride buses to and from Mississippi schools each weekday, according to the Mississippi Department of Education.

Records show 5,200 school buses are on the road every school morning and afternoon traveling approximately 40-million miles a year.

"National Safety Council statistics show that the yellow school bus is the 'safest vehicle on the road,'" Steve Williams, state supervisor for pupil transportation of the department of Education, said.

"In the 86-87 school year, two students in Mississippi died while either entering or exiting a school bus," Williams reports. "We want to reduce that figure to zero."

National School Bus Safety Week, Sept. 20-26, draws attention to the professionalism of school bus drivers and the need for motorists to be aware of and understand their responsibilities.

"School bus drivers are professionals and are formally trained in the use of defensive driving, emergency procedures, student management, reporting and discipline systems, driver conduct, and pre-trip inspections," Leonard Cain, director of school building and transportation, Mississippi Department of Education, said.

ment of Education, said.

"We are asking the public to help us by realizing that the most dangerous part of a school bus trip is when a child is crossing the road," Cain added.

Nationwide since 1969, almost 300 students have been killed by a passing car that failed to stop while a school bus was loading or unloading children.

The Mississippi Code states that vehicles in all lanes of traffic, regardless of the number of highway lanes, must stop while a school bus is loading or unloading children and remain stopped until the bus proceeds.

The Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol emphasizes the need for citizen support in ensuring school bus safety.

"We are asking that anyone who observes a motorist pass a school bus that is in the process of loading or unloading children, to obtain a description of the vehicle and the driver and write down the tag number," said James L. Roberts Jr., commissioner of public safety.

"This information, when reported to the appropriate law enforcement agency, and citizen participation in court, can substantially reduce the chance of a child becoming injured or killed while getting on or off a school bus," Roberts added.

Sign thieves are criminals, too

People who attempt to improve and beautify their property in Hancock County soon discover that thieves lurk in the shadows.

This hit home last Saturday night when a sign placed on our property was stolen. This sign was a family project, hand painted with our family name "Richard" in the center with magnolias and quarter horses on each side.

Perhaps these are the same thieves who steal county road signs with total disregard for the lives the signs may save by warning a driver of upcoming road conditions.

As parents we have a responsibility to see that our children are taught to respect others and their property. Parents who allow their children to collect road signs are as guilty of theft as their children.

The one bright moment in an otherwise depressing day was the response of the Hancock County Sheriff's Department. Within 15 minutes there was an officer at our home. Officer Willie Lee was courteous and understanding, a credit to the county.

REPORT TO MISSISSIPPIANS

ILLITERACY TAKES TOLL ON STATE'S ECONOMY
Throughout our state and our country thousands of adults struggle daily because they are unable to read and understand simple tests, signs, labels and directions. Poor reading and writing skills affect their ability to function in everyday life.

Studies estimate that there are more than 27 million adults in the United States who are functionally illiterate. These numbers cost the nation more than $224 billion every year in welfare payments, crime, incompetent job performance, lost tax revenues and remedial education.

In Mississippi, an estimated 300,000 people or 12 percent of the population are functionally illiterate. These figures, both shocking and sad, take a high toll on our state's economic stability.

In the past few years, a great deal of attention has been focused on our nation's illiteracy problem. Public information campaigns have served to alert the country to this continuing problem while education officials and other concerned groups have initiated programs to alleviate the problem.

State officials in 1986 launched an aggressive program to create a comprehensive network of local, regional and state literacy programs. They have recruited volunteers for training as tutors and used television, newspapers, flyers, brochures, welfare and social services agencies and even door-to-door canvassing to reach the illiterate population.

On the national level, A Coalition for Literacy composed of 11 organizations, has launched a three-year drive to inform the public and recruit volunteers.

Success stories abound from literacy programs across the nation. Numerous individuals have benefited. But while much has been accomplished, much remains to be done to bring the alarming figures down.

We must continue to look for ways to overcome the problems of the functionally illiterate. Through the combined efforts of many, the functionally illiterate in our country can become useful contributors to both Mississippi and the nation.

and going from the house in question.

While Gex said there is no prohibition against anyone parking industrial-type trucks in a residential yard, there are regulations against hauling any type of building or other materials on a day-to-day basis to and from an R-1 yard.

Sid Thompson produced photographs of trucks and equipment in the yard, in addition to livestock including goats.

Scafide complained that the goats had shown signs of starvation and that one goat had been slaughtered on the premises.

"He slaughtered and gutted a goat and then hung it in a tree for all our children to see," she said.

Gex said no action could be taken against any individual for killing livestock if that same individual owned the animal in question.

"I want to know why, when I call city hall, I am asked 'Why have you people let this go on,' meaning the residents," Scafide said, contending that city officials were first notified of the alleged problem in April.

She explained that residents of the area are willing to cooperate with the city to stop the alleged violations and had already talked to their alderman and to the Hancock County Humane Society about the matter.

"I had guests at my home and they could not leave because the man's goat was trapped under their automobile. When the policeman stopped my guests for being disruptive, it humiliated me," Scafide added.

The neighbors are also concerned about possible depreciation of property values if the alleged violation continues.

Marge Thompson added that another building was placed on the property Tuesday night and neighbors are now concerned about what use will be made of the structure.

Watkins has already been cited for a zoning violation, specifically operating a business on an R-1 property, but the matter was dropped.

Scafide said she understood that the matter had been suspended in city court three times and that the most recent abeyance had been granted because Watkins placed his property up for sale.

"The last abeyance my neighbors got was eight years ago, and their place makes his look like a mansion," said Rhonda Patton, who stated that she lives in front of a McKinley Street residence that looks like "a dump" and that one of the two houses on the lot was allegedly condemned by the health department eight years ago.

She said the house on McKinley Street has mounds of garbage both in the yard and the public street, as well as automobile parts and old appliances.

After a police officer visited the house, the debris in the street was scraped off into the ditches.

She said her neighbors, whose names she does not know, had also had livestock, but a pony on the property had starved to death and a dog still there appeared close to doing the same thing.

Patton said safety was also a concern due to the health hazards in the yard.

Gex said he would pursue both cases.

In other business Wednesday, the board: —Approved $500 in funding for the Hancock County Chapter of American Red Cross at the request of Red Cross representative Jeanne Garcia.

The board meets again at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 6.

PRC proves no trouble for Tigers, Bay High takes 42-13 victory

BY DENA BISNETTE

The roaring Bay St. Louis High School Tigers took their second victory of the 1987 season Friday 42-13 from a team their coach had predicted might be trouble, the Pearl River Central Blue Devils.

Earlier in the week, Williams had said that the Tigers might have problems with a quick Blue Devil backfield and an airborne offensive game. But a persistent Bay High defensive squad forced PRC errors when the going got tough to stop the Blue Devil threat.

Quarterback Chad LaFontaine merited praise from Tiger Head Coach Cleveland Williams as he carried for a 62 yard TD while guiding the Tigers to victory Friday at J.D. McCullough Field.

Brian Laneaux led the scoring for Bay High with three touchdown runs of 95, 86 and 35 yards.

Williams said the Tigers have gotten better with each game.

"We are improving each week on offense with our linemen, who are getting off the ball faster, even though we are still committing too many errors resulting in penalties, which can hurt our club in a tight game situation," the coach said.

"The clubs we will be facing each week for the remainder of the season will get a lot stronger, and to be competitive we must eliminate these mental breakdowns we are having."

Even rookies saw some action against Pearl River Friday as the score climbed higher.

"We had a good team effort from the young men on both the offensive and defensive squads," Williams said.

"It's good to be able to play all of the boys on your team because they play an important role each week in helping us to prepare for the next game's opponents."

Pearl River Central started the clicking of the scoreboard Friday night with a pass-play touchdown on their second possession, which resulted from a Blue Devil recovery of a Bay High fumble.

An extra point gave Pearl River a seven point lead with 1:28 left in the first quarter.

Early in second quarter action, Bay High's Destin Brady took the handoff on the Pearl River 40 yardline and ran it in for the first Tiger touchdown of the night. Laneaux added a kick for a PAT that tied the score with 10:08 left in the first half.

Pearl River did not keep the ball long on the next possession, fumbling on the first play. The Tigers recovered on their own 11, then received an offsides penalty that sent them back to their own four.

The next play yielded only a yard for Bay, then Laneaux took the ball and ran around the left side for 95 yards to score with 7:46 on the clock. The Tigers added a PAT for a 14-7 lead.

A Pearl River fumble gave the ball back to Bay High on the next series, which ended with a missed field goal, but the Blue Devils fumbled again immediately upon possession.

On the resulting drive, Laneaux hit for 35 yards and a touchdown, upping the score to 20-7. LaFontaine kicked for a PAT to post 21-7 on the board with 1:56 left in the first half.

The Blue Devils rallied on their first drive during the second half, adding a touchdown to reduce the margin of the score.

The PAT attempt was not successful and the score stood at 21-13 with the Tigers still leading.

The Tigers tried their aerial game for the next touchdown, with LaFontaine passing to Douglas Rhodes for 24 yards and six more points.

The PAT, added by Joel Duncan, gave the Tigers a 28-13 lead.

Rhodes halted Pearl River's next drive by intercepting a Blue Devil pass. Bay wound up with a third and nine on their own 14. Laneaux carried and burst through the PRC.

defensive squad for an 88 yard TD jaunt. The PAT put the Tigers ahead 35-13 at the beginning of the fourth quarter.

With 5:33 to go, LaFontaine hit for paydirt with a 62-yard keeper, adding another six to the Tiger side of the scoreboard.

Duncan's PAT kick posted the final score of 42-13.

Next week, Bay High travels to Vancleave.

Rocks take second win 30-6 over Mercy Cross

The St. Stanislaus Rockchaws made it two in a row Friday night as they soundly defeated the visiting Mercy Cross Crusaders, 30-6, at Rockchaw stadium.

Highlights of the game were provided by several great individual efforts.

Split end Freddie Wirstrom had four receptions for 77 yards, including one for a touchdown.

Running backs Jorge Ponjuan and Gino Ascani gained 200 yards on the ground. Ponjuan had a 95-yard touchdown run as he bounced off the left side of the Mercy Cross defensive line and outran the Crusader secondary into the endzone.

Cornerback Jerry Packrell had two interceptions, returning one for a touchdown to open the scoring for the Rocks.

Quarterbacks Yasin Shabazz and Cedric Smith led the offense with poise and confidence. Shabazz had a 10-yard touchdown run on an option around left end.

Head Coach Ken Lyons and assistants Jerry Spell, Larry Ramsey, and Rod Herring deserve major credit for providing the organization and leadership needed to steer the Rockchaw football program back on course.

The first quarter began sluggishly as both teams traded possessions several times. Crusader tailback Corey McDonald ground out three first downs during the quarter as Mercy Cross tried to find holes in the SSC defense.

After another exchange of punts, Mercy Cross had a first and ten at their 20 yardline. A good pass rush by the interior of the SSC defensive line hastened Crusader QB Joel Kavanagh's pass.

Cornerback Packrell picked off the errant throw and scooted 12 yards into the endzone to give SSC a 6-point lead with 1:53 left in the first quarter.

Mike Vegas' extra point split the uprights and the Rocks led, 7-0.

Mercy Cross went back to the air on their next possession. Kavanagh tried to hit tight end Matt Dellenger, but SSC's Jimmy Reisch cracked Dellenger and the pass fell incomplete.

The Crusaders got their first big break of the evening as deep back Packrell bobbled the Mercy Cross punt and the Crusaders took over on the SSC 43 yard line.

SSC defensemen Craig Sweeney, Charlie Beech, and Shane Harris led the Rocks in driving the Crusaders back from the initial line of scrimmage, forcing them to punt once again.

Shabazz completed two consecutive passes to receiver Wirstrom as the Rocks advanced into Mercy Cross territory.

Wirstrom's second grab came high in the air between two defenders, with both feet coming down just inside the edge of the sidelines.

This opened up the inside running game as Ascani picked up 22 yards on his next two carries.

The Rockchaw offensive line had begun to establish themselves. Shane Sigsworth, Chuck Lavinghouse, and Steve Cuevas were driving their defensive opponents back as the Rocks marched.

A delay of game call against St. Stanislaus moved the ball back to the Crusader 19-yard line.

On third down, Ascani picked up seven, leaving fourth and inches to go for a first down. The Rocks played power football as the offensive line set up a moving wall for Ascani to run behind to pick up the first down.

With first and goal at the 9 yard line, Shabazz swept around the left side for the tally and the Rocks led 13-0 with 4:22 left in the first half.

Mercy Cross tried to free their tailback McDonald on an outside run, but good defensive penetration by Jim Bradley, Shane Harris, and Tracey Koller held McDonald for a short gain.

The Crusaders went to a shotgun formation on the next play, and executed a successful 49-yard screen pass for their only touchdown of the evening.

The extra point was wide, and the Crusaders closed the gap to 13-6 with 1:05 left in the half.

Cedric Smith came in to quarterback for the Rocks. His first pass to Wirstrom was complete for a 34-yard pickup as the clock showed :23 in the half.

Getting good pass protection from the offensive line, Smith dropped back and threw into the corner of the endzone. Again Freddie Wirstrom was on the receiving end and with no time left on the clock the Rocks led 19-6.

The extra point snap was high, but holder Andre Rollins scrambled until he found tight end Robert Brown alone in the middle of the endzone for the two-point conversion as SSC increased their lead to 21-6.

This quick scoring burst seemed to ignite the Rockchaw players. On the other side of the field, fatigue was showing among the Crusader players. Nine of Mercy Cross' starters on offense also played defense, along with their specialty team duties.

Deep back Shane Praetorius returned the second half kickoff to the SSC 32-yard line. The Rocks could not move the football, and Hank Winters had to punt.

Winters' first punt was brought back due to a motion penalty, and his second punt was blocked by Mercy Cross lineman Larry Beecham. Suddenly, the Crusaders had a chance to get back in the game as they took over on the SSC 17 yard line.

Mercy Cross coach Sonny Pisarich called McDonald's number four straight times. The hard-running junior was stopped two inches short of a first down and the Rocks took over.

On first down the Rocks lost two yards. Fullback Jorge Ponjuan drove into the middle of the line. He was hit by several Crusaders but no one could tackle him as Ponjuan emerged out of the pack en route to a 95-yard scoring run.

The Rocks were showing that they could score often and in many different ways. Their offensive, defensive, and special teams had all put points on the board.

Vegas' extra point attempt was blocked, and an unsportsmanlike conduct penalty after the play forced the Rockchaws to kickoff at their 25-yard line.

Most of the Mercy Cross players were exhausted at this point and could not pick up a first down.

When the Rocks took over, Coach Lyons began to bring his backup players into the game. After two first downs, the Rocks faced a fourth and seven from the Mercy Cross 15-yard line.

Mike Vegas booted his second field goal of the season, a 32-yard effort, and the Rocks had a comfortable 30-6 lead with 9:01 left in the contest.

Rockchaw defenseman Rocky Rhodes nailed Kavanagh on the kickoff return, and hard hitting by Craig Sweeney, Gary Ponthieux, and Tony Mallini permitted the Crusader ball carriers little gain.

Two Rockchaw penalties later Mercy Cross was at their 47 yard line.

The Crusaders remained in the shotgun formation. A bad snap from center was mishandled by QB Kavanagh and Galen Smith recovered the fumble at the Mercy Cross 42 yard line.

SSC tailback Ron Engel sliced through the line for 11 yards. Smith's next pass rolled just off the fingertips of receiver John Necaize, and the Rocks had to punt.

Mercy Cross tried two desperation passes on their final possession. Carlos Canales and Donny Berglund couldn't come up with the interception as Kavanagh's wobbly pass fell incomplete.

On the game's last play, Dean Kelly intercepted and fought back to the Crusader 43 yardline.

"Mercy Cross had a few good athletes," SSC Coach Lyons noted.

"We needed a win tonight. I'm pleased that just about everyone got a chance to play," said Coach Lyons.

"Next week we will be in a dogfight against Long Beach," Lyons continued. "I hope we have reached the level of maturity where we can take winning in stride so we can prepare for the next challenge."

"One of our indicators of progress is how the athletes will come and tell me what they feel is open for us during a game," stated Lyons. "That's when I know they are concentrating."

Defensive coordinator Larry Ramsey felt the Rocks showed good containment and aggressiveness.

"I was very pleased with the overall play of the defense, especially the secondary," said Coach Ramsey. "Our linebacking corps did the job, considering that three of our four starting linebackers are out with injuries."

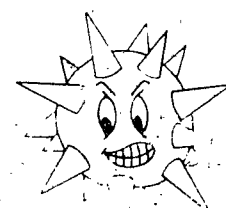

Next Friday the Rocks will host Long Beach who had a long night last week in a 27-0 loss to Ocean Springs.

After facing Gulfport, d'Iberville, and Ocean Springs as their first three opponents, the Bearcats will surely test the Rockchaws new-found confidence Friday.

Kickoff is set for 7:30 and a large crowd is expected.

PIRATES GO 0-3

The Pass Christian Pirates continued a losing streak Friday, falling to St. Martin 30-6.

David Vontoure scored the Pirates' only touchdown when he recovered a St. Martin fumble for a 60-yard return.

Next week, Pass Christian hosts the Hancock North Central Hawks, who had an open date this week.

terception 25 yards for the first points of the evening as the Rocks rolled to a 30-6 win over the Crusaders. (SSC photo by Tom Ackerman)

Hancock 4-H supported through United Way contributions

By Daney Jackson
Extension 4-H Youth Agent
Hancock County

EDITOR'S NOTE: Following is the tenth in a series of articles being presented by the Sea Coast Echo on agencies which are partially funded by the United Way of Hancock County. The local United Way is planning a Sept. 25 kickoff for its 1987 fundraising drive. Lonnie Clayborn of Waveland is chairman of this year's drive. The goal is $65,000.

4-H members are a part of one of the largest youth programs in the world. Through 4-H they meet new friends, learn new skills, travel and have fun!

4-H is an informal, practical, learn-by-doing educational program for youths eight to 18, from rural and urban areas and from all racial, cultural, economic and social backgrounds. 4-H helps youths set goals and it can help them learn how to be a good citizen. They have fun in the process!

In 4-H members learn to solve problems facing them and their community.

The knowledge and skills acquired in 4-H can open the door to a lifetime of personal growth.

4-H is the youth program of the Cooperative Extension Service of Mississippi State University and in Hancock County is partially funded through the United Way.

The 4-H emblem is a four-leaf clover with an "H" on each leaf. The letters in the emblem stand for Head, Heart, Hands and Health—the foundation of all 4-H programs:

—Use your head to think, make decisions, understand "why," and gain new and valuable knowledge in many areas.

—The heart involves concern with the welfare of others, accepting responsibilities of citizenship, determining values and attitudes, and learning how to work and live with others at home, in the community, state, nation, and world.

—Use hands to learn new skills, perfect skills already known, develop pride and respect for work, and explore possible vocations and careers.

Health involves practicing healthful living, protecting the well-being of self and others, and making constructive use of leisure time.

Members select one or more projects, elect officers, plan and carry out a program for all or several months of the year. All the members may enroll in the same project (a project club) or in a variety of projects (general club).

4-H Clubs are found in communities and schools.

In special interest groups, members learn about one subject during one or several meetings.

Boys and girls who carry out individual 4-H projects, but are not able to be members of a local 4-H group, are referred to as individual members.

Adults serve as volunteers in the 4-H program. Some volunteers help youth plan and conduct 4-H projects and activities. Others serve as advisors to 4-H Clubs.

Each 4-H member may enroll in one or more 4-H projects. 4-H projects are "learn-by-doing" experiences. Members select a project they are interested in and would like to learn about. They work on the project(s) throughout the year, keep records of what is done and learned and then turn the records in to a project leader or 4-H Club advisor. They may enroll in the same project or a different project each year.

4-H Project Books will present information about how and what should be done to complete the project. Members have completed the project for the year when they have carried out project plans.

Because most 4-H projects are carried out at home, 4-H should be a family affair. Family members can help plan and carry out project work.

Family can provide encouragement as well as transportation to meetings and events. Parents need to stay informed about the programs and activities of 4-H Club. Parents may share their talents and interests by serving as 4-H project and activity leaders.

4-H welcomes those who:

—are 8-18 years old
—want to learn by doing
—like to receive recognition for work well done
—want to learn skills that can help in future careers
—wish to develop leadership skills
—live in the city, the county or any place in between.

4-H is for youths who want to go places, meet interesting people, learn new skills, get to know themselves better, improve community, have fun.

Anyone interested in animals, conservation, engineering, home economics, personal development, plants or other projects would call Hancock County Extension Office at 467-5456 for further information.

GUEST SPEAKER— Steve Edwards, director of Human Resources for Jitney Jungle Stores was the guest speaker for a Hancock County Business and Industry United Way kick-off held at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club. FIRST PLEDGE— Chuck Benvenuti, right, president of the United Way of Hancock County receives the first pledge from Mrs. Mae Beyer for the 1987 campaign. Conrad Mauffray, executive director is at left. A goal of $65,000 has been set with Lonnie Clayborn as the 1987 campaign chairman; Bob Breeden, Rosary Eble, David Treutel Jr., Kathy Fernandez, and Lou Hall, as co-chairman. (Staff photo by Ellis Cuevas).

UNITED WAY CAMPAIGN—The United Way of Hancock County held a Business and Industry Luncheon promoting payroll deductions. The Hancock United Way funds some 17 agencies with the newest being the Food Pantry. Hancock United Way funding is received through business and industry gifts, payroll deductions, individual gifts and also from the Combined Federal Campaign. The luncheon was held at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club. Lonnie Clayborn is the 1987 campaign chairman. (Staff photo by Ellis Cuevas).

Gulfport Chamber director resigns

Joe Ethridge, President of the Gulfport Area Chamber of Commerce, reports that chamber director Wade Jones has resigned to become legislative representative with Mississippi Power.

In making the announcement, Ethridge stated, "It is with regret that the executive committee accepts this resignation. Wade has provided positive direction for the Chamber over the last three and one-half years. The Gulfport area has benefited by his enthusiastic leadership."

Ethridge cited increased membership involvement, a more positive environment for business generally and efforts to work closely with other coastal chambers as major accomplishments under Jones' leadership.

"Wade's leadership has been felt in many areas of the community," stated Ethridge. "The port, education, government and business have all benefitted by having Wade here leading our chamber."

"The decision to leave the chamber was a difficult one," said Jones. "however, it is necessary to take advantage of career opportunities as they occur. I look forward to the opportunity that allows me to work in an area that I enjoy while at the same time affiliating with a company that has a reputation for excellence." Jones expressed appreciation to the chamber board, the chamber membership and to the many volunteers that have worked to move the chamber in a positive direction.

"I plan to still be involved with the chamber," Jones said, "but I will miss the close involvement with so many wonderful people."

CAMPAIGN UNITED WAY—A Business and Industry kick-off dutch treat dinner for the United Way of Hancock County was held at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club. The goal for the 1987 Hancock County United Way is $65,000 an increase of $10,000 over 1986's. those already involved. Steve Edwards, director of Human Resources of Jitney Jungle Stores of America was the guest speaker and explained how his company promotes payroll deduction. E.J. Marengo of Hancock Insurance is at left, and Clarice Gustin of Diamondhead is at right. (Staff photo by Ellis Cuevas).

Junior Auxiliary child abuse program to continue through grant funding

By JANET MCQUEEN

The Bay St. Louis Junior Auxiliary is the recipient of a $5,000 grant to provide educational materials for its child abuse project, Hancock Abuse Prevention Program for Youth (HAPPY).

Funding for the endeavor will come from the Gulf Coast Mental Health Center in conjunction with the Hancock County United Way, according to Judy Miller, HAPPY chairman.

The Bay St. Louis chapter will provide voluntary service to present awareness programs in all county and city schools, while the grant will provide video equipment, pamphlets, printing and educational films.

Betty Spencer, staff psychologist with Gulf Coast Mental Health, will serve as liaison to the auxiliary.

Hancock County Youth Court records for 1986 documents 72 founded cases of child abuse with 26 percent reporting sexual abuse. These figures designate Hancock County as sixth in the state in reported abuse cases. Heightened awareness is expected to account for a continued rise in reported cases, a trend recorded in the first month of 1987.

Following a year of research, Miller began the pilot program "Someone To Talk To," a puppet show performed for kindergartens and first graders at North Bay, Waveland, Charles B. Murphy, Hancock North Central, Gulfview, Bay Catholic, Christ Episcopal, Cedar Point and St. Clare elementaries.

The show depicts situations of neglect and abuse in a non-threatening manner, encouraging children to confide in adults they can trust.

Materials for the stage and puppets and monetary assistance were provided by Hancock Plumbing, Coast Electric Power Association and the Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 3253. Puppets were constructed by the Homemakers Council Extension Club under the direction of Darlene Underwood.

"Someone To Talk To" will be presented to kindergartens in 1987-88. First graders will view an original skit on video starring and produced by JA members, accompanied by a coloring book on personal safety designed by Miller.

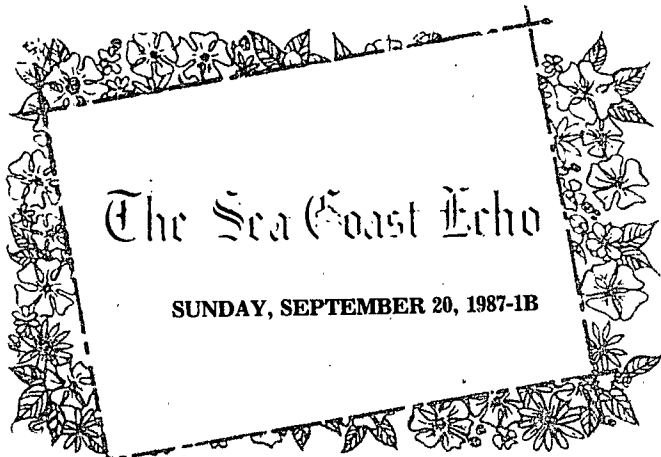

Third, fifth and ninth grades will view three versions of the film "Better Safe Than Sorry," dealing with problems encountered on various levels of maturity.

"The role of Junior Auxiliary is to educate," said Miller. "Children with problems will be advised to consult guidance counselors who will be on hand during the screenings or the Gulf Coast Mental Health Center for counseling."

The Bay St. Louis Junior Auxiliary is an organization rendering charitable services with particular emphasis on the welfare of children.

Waveland Players to present popular comedy by Neil Simon

The Waveland Players will present "California Suite" at the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre playhouse on Boardman Avenue in Bay St. Louis on Sept. 25 and 26 and Oct. 2 and 3.

Neil Simon's comedy, which takes place in the Beverly Hills Hotel, is a series of four playlets, each a slice-of-life scene about various guests at the hotel. Because it involves adult situations and contains adult language, parents are advised to use discretion in letting their children, director Lady Carver said.

In "Visitor from New York," Hannah Warren must come to terms with her ex-husband, William, about where their maturing daughter will live—in sophisticated urban New York or laid-back, relaxed California. In "Visitors from Philadelphia," Marvin Michaels tries to hide the unique "present" that his brother gave him when his wife Millie arrives unexpectedly.

Antiques dealer Sidney Nichols and his actress wife, Diana, come to California for the Academy Awards in "Visitors from London." The final scene, "Visitors from Chicago," is an all-out romp about two couples on vacation together, and how quickly friendships can disintegrate in close quarters when plans go awry.

The cast for "California Suite" includes Susan Stevens as Hannah, Carl Danna Catherine Ohman as Bunny, Don L. George as Sidney, Nan Ehrbright as Diana, Michael J. Hamm as Mort, Marjorie Thomas-Hall as Beth and Joyce Ohman as Gert.

Stevens is making her third appearance this year for the Players. She played the naive cafe singer, Cheri, in "Bus Stop" and also appeared in "The Real Inspector Hound." Her acting credits also include roles in "Crimes of the Heart," "Deadwood Dick," "Of Thee I Sing," "The Murder Room," "Bye Bye Birdie," "The Effect of Gamma Rays on Man-in-the-Moon Marigolds," "Up the Down Staircase," "Camino Real," "Finishing Touches," "Anything Goes," "Guys and Dolls," "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum" and "West Side Story." Stevens is president of the Waveland Players.

"California Suite" marks the Hancock County community theatre debut of both Danna and Thomas-Hall, but both are seasoned actors.

Danna was active in theatre in Hicksville, N.Y. and has performed for both Gulfport Little Theatre ("Brighton Beach Memoirs") and Center Stage ("Caught with His Trance Down"). His acting credits also include roles in "Guys and Dolls," "Damn Yankees," and "My Sister Eileen."

Thomas-Hall, who studied acting at Los Angeles City College, was an active member of Picaune On-Stage before moving to the Coast about a year ago. Her acting credits include "The Mousetrap," "Exit the Body" and the role of Madame Arcati in "Blithe Spirit."

Scanlan is as well-known throughout the Coast for the Mardi Gras floats which he designs and builds as he is for acting and set design. His acting credits for Waveland Players, BSLT and Diamondhead Little Theatre include roles in "Oliver," "Pajama Top," "The Odd Couple," "The Bad Seed," "Wait Until Dark," "Deadwood Dick," "Murder in the Magnolias," "Young Dracula" and "Never Too Late." His directing credits include "A Bad Year for Tomatoes" and three variety shows.

Rodrique is a veteran of community theatre productions in Waveland, Bay St. Louis, Diamondhead and Pass Christian. His credits include roles in "Last of the Red Hot Lovers," "Elementary, My Dear," "God's Favorite," "The Bad Seed" and "A Bad Year for Tomatoes"; 1987 variety show audiences will remember her as one of the beauty-queen contestants in "Summertime on the Beach."

Catherine Ohman is a freshman at

Our Lady Academy and was recently elected president of her class. She is also a member of the St. Stanislaus Junior Varsity cheerleaders. Ohman has appeared in two of the Waveland Players' summer variety shows.

George's community theatre acting credits include roles in the Waveland Players' productions of "The Real Inspector Hound" and "Summertime on the Beach." He was also active onstage in college theatre ("Which is the Way to Boston") and served as president of the drama club at Copiah-Lincoln Junior college in Wesson.

Ehrbright has been active in community theatre in Cheyenne, Wyo. and Hammond, La. as well as Waveland, Bay St. Louis and Diamondhead. Her acting credits include roles in "Bus Stop," "Blithe Spirit," "6 Rms Riv Vu," "Separate Tables," "The Chalk Garden" and "The King and I." Her directing credits include "The Real Inspector Hound," "The Odd Couple," "How the Other Half Loves," "40 Carats," "Absurd Person Singular," "I Never sang for My father" and "Encounters."

Hamm's stage experience includes work with the Waveland Players, BSLT and Diamondhead Little Theatre as well as Krewe of Triton productions. His acting credits include roles in "The Cat and the Canary," "Bye Bye Birdie," "Here Lies Jeremy Troy," "Lil Abner," "Calamity Jane," "South Pacific," "Bus Stop," "High Tor," "Fiddler on the Roof" and "Lie, Cheat and Genuflect." His directing credits include "Lizzie Borden," "Never Get Smart with an Angel" and most recently, "Bull in a China Shop."

Joyce Ohman has been active both onstage and backstage with Waveland Players since she moved to the Coast in 1984. Her acting credits include roles in "Bull in a China Shop," "Crimes of the Heart," "Deadwood Dick," "A Man for All Seasons," "North to Alaska," "Summertime on the Beach" and, for Diamondhead Little Theatre, "Here Lies Jeremy Troy."

Carver, who has a degree in special education and drama from Mississippi State University, has directed plays for all three Hancock County community theatre groups; Waveland, Bay St. Louis and Diamondhead.

"California Suite," she said, is one of her favorites of Neil Simon's plays.

"It's full of action and drama, and his use of comedy ties it all together. Although there is strong adult content in language, it is handled tastefully and humorously, which is a hallmark of Simon. This is why I enjoy him so much, and I think the audiences will, too."

Carver also expressed her appreciation to the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre for its cooperation in letting the Waveland Players use the playhouse for this production.

"It's been a pleasure to use the facility. It accommodates the space needs of the two-room hotel suite set and, of course, the seating for the audience is much bigger. We hope to fill it every night," she said.

Curtain time is 8:15 p.m. There are no student-ticket prices available, and all tickets are $4 each.

Mrs. Mattie North, president, opened the meeting and the color bearers, Mmes. Lena Cuevas and Christy LaFontaine, advanced the colors. Mrs. Roslyn Weathers, chaplain, followed with the prayers, and after a moment of silence the members recited the Pledge of Allegiance followed by the singing of the Star Spangled Banner led by Mrs. Rose Ann Thomas.

The president asked the membership to join in the recitation of the Auxiliary Preamble.

Plans were finalized for the party Sept. 24 by Mmes. Lena Cuevas and Hazel Wohlschlegel.

A report of the national convention in San Antonio was given by Mmes. Roslyn Weathers, Phyllis Moran and Lou Wilkerson.

Discussion was held on the usual Halloween party on Oct. 31 and the screening of candy, etc. at the Hancock Medical Center. Volunteers are needed from 6 to 8 p.m.

The annual Harvest Moon Ball will be on Oct. 23 and tickets are being readied for this event.

Education night will take place on Nov. 18. Letters are being prepared by Mrs. Lou Wilkerson, chairlady, to be sent to colleges in this area. Further information will be given in our October meeting.

They were Messrs. and Mmes. Jesse and Evelyn Burns, Bill and Phyllis Moran, Clayton and Rose Ann Thompson, Eddie and Roslyn Weathers and John and Lou Wilkerson.

Since National Commander Jimmy Dean is from Mississippi, the Sunday breakfast was hosted by the Ladies Auxiliary, Membership of Mississippi. They wore white blouses and navy blue skirts with the outline of Mississippi flanked on one side with a bale of cotton on the other side with a magnolia, the state flower.

Mrs. Barbara Perkins, chairlady of this activity, had a guest book in which each of the visiting auxiliary signed, and they in turn were given a memento from the state of Mississippi.

The national president of the auxiliary, Mrs. Evelyn Starr, opened the meeting, introduced her officers and then presented the guest speaker, Mrs. George Bush, wife of the Vice President of the United States.

Mrs. Bush is a gracious and lovely lady and has been an active auxiliary member of many years. She spoke of her highlights during these years and also her years as the vice president's wife.

In the early evening there was a parade through the main streets of San Antonio and spectators were on each side waving to the marchers who represented units and auxiliaries from all the states and territories.

On Tuesday, all of the Outstanding Auxiliary Members of the Year from all the states had their picture taken with National President Starr. This was followed by a short reception given to all the state presidents and auxiliary members.

Following the luncheon Mrs. Starr called each state and presented the Outstanding Members of the Year with a plaque. Our representative of Mississippi was Mrs. Roslyn Weathers of Unit 139, Bay St. Louis.

After all the members were given their plaques, Mrs. Starr introduced Mrs. Robert Dole, the senator's wife, who is a member of the President's staff in the Bureau of Transportation. She spoke of her many years in the auxiliary and expressed her views on the great works of the auxiliary and the importance of all that is done by the units.

The 9th District, of which Unit 139 is part, came home to Mississippi with many national honors. Mrs. Gladys Bassett was our president for 1986-87; our new president is Mrs. Phyllis Moran.

An $86,000 gift by Gulf Coast banker Leo Seal Jr. of Bay St. Louis to Mississippi State University will give the College of Business and Industry its first interactive computing classroom.

Seal, president and chief executive officer of the Hancock Banking System in Gulfport, is a 1949 MSU alumnus and a two-year letterman on the football team. He already supports an executive speaker series that the college sponsors each year.

Business Dean Dennis R. Leyden said the first classroom will be equipped with 24 personal computers linked together in a local area network, complete with laser and dot-matrix printers, a large-screen projector, and state-of-the-art interactive software.

"The network will allow the teacher to provide students with immediate feedback and create a learning experience similar to the business environment," he said. "Since students must compete for professional opportunities and jobs in an increasingly competitive marketplace, it is imperative that they be properly equipped for this competitive environment."

Leyden said the classroom will be the first of several to be established as part of the college's Creative Learning Interactive Center.

"The center will provide a learning environment to directly support traditional classroom instruction by providing significant enhancements in the problem-solving capabilities of students," he said.

Leyden said the classroom will be operational on a limited basis this semester, with more classes and applications added each semester.

Students will not be the only ones to benefit from the electronic classroom, he emphasized. "Faculty members can now be more innovative in the use of computers both in and out of the classroom," he said.

Leyden said all of the college's five academic units—accounting, business information systems, economics and finance, management, and marketing—will use the classroom.

The College of Business and Industry, whose enrollment is traditionally among the largest at the university, currently has some 2,800 undergraduate and 200 graduate majors. It is fully accredited at all levels by the American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business.

to the public. For more information on these and other interpretive programs available at the William Colmer Visitor Center call (601) 875-0821.

Holliday to contest election

State Senate Seat 47 candidate Lawrence Holliday has reportedly filed papers with the Mississippi State Democratic Executive Committee in Jackson to contest the Aug. 25 Democratic Second Primary Election results.

Holliday told the Poplarville Democrat that his figures show that he would have a "seven-to-eight-vote lead" over opponent Margaret "Wootsie" Tate if all contested ballots were counted.

He had previously examined several ballot boxes in Pearl River County and a total of 13 boxes in neighboring Stone County.

The Seat 47 district includes all of Pearl River and Stone counties, plus parts of Hancock and Harrison counties.

Official returns certified by the Democratic Committee showed Tate with a 20-vote lead after the Second Primary, which would eliminate Holliday from the Nov. 3 General Election ballot.

Holliday is reportedly interested in contesting partially punched ballots in Pearl River County and affidavit ballots not tallied in Stone County.

The papers filed to contest the election were filed with State Democratic Executive Committee Chair Steve Patterson.

According to reports, Patterson and Smith would need to meet soon to make a decision on what action, if any, can be taken. Candidates have a specified deadline in which they may contest an election count.

If Holliday's challenge is denied, his only recourse would be through the court system.

Holliday has published an advertisement in which he states:

"After the results of the election from all four counties were tabulated, there was only a certified difference of 20 votes between Mrs. Tate and me. Because of this, I thought I owed it to myself and my supporters to examine the boxes and count the legally cast votes.

After doing this, we have determined that I would have the most votes and should be declared the Democratic nominee.

"In order to get these votes counted, it was legally necessary for me to file an election contest, which I did Monday.

"I want to make it very clear that I am not trying to throw out any boxes or individual votes. I only want all the eligible votes counted. If I have only one extra vote, then I want to be the Democratic nominee.

But, by the same token, if I am in error and Mrs. Tate does have the most votes, then she should be the Democratic nominee."
